The story is much less exciting than you might imagine. Mercantile Bank did not have a numismatic display prior to the existence of our Mercantile Money Museum. The document you've found is my rough drawing of the various safe deposit boxes we had there, so that Eric could decide which items should go in which boxes.

Andy-

For my own curiosity – I gather that the Mercantile had some kind of numismatic exhibit prior to the build-out of the Newman museum in 1981 – Is this correct? Was the same space eventually used for the Newman museum? The attachment is dated 1978 and appears to be a plan for the exhibit space.

Len.
